COLUMBUS PERSPECTIVE: 4th QUARTER 2013

1. EMPLOYMENT/ECONOMY

DATE	GUEST	TOPIC	LENGTH
10/6/13	Political strategists Terry Casey and Sam Gresham	They briefly discuss a number of issues including whether the Affordable Care Act will be successful, who is to blame for the recent federal government shutdown, on the spat between Senators Ted Cruz and John McCain, on whether Cuyahoga County Executive and gubernatorial candidate Ed Fitzgerald is to blame for unemployment woes in that county, and whether JobsOhio has conflicts of interest between its reps and businesses they deal with.	7:00
10/6/13	Fabricators and Manufacturers Association President and C. E. O. Ed Youdell	He talks about manufacturing in Ohio. He says it's on an upward trend after several down years. He says the auto industry is helping to lead the way in better times. He also talked about "reshoring"—costs to manufacture in the U. S. are becoming more efficient on a global basis creating more opportunities and jobs here. He talked about the importance of job training programs because of the more sophisticated nature of manufacturing these days.
11/6/13	All 6 candidates for Columbus City Council: Brian Bainbridge, Greg Lawson, Troy Miller, Eileen Paley, Nick Schneider and Priscilla Tyson	Each was allowed a one-minute statement, then asked these questions and given one minute to respond: What is the single most important thing Columbus can do to improve the safety of its citizens? What is the single most important thing Columbus can do to improve the way it handles growth and development? What is the single most important thing Columbus can do to improve its budget outlook? What changes do you hope to see happen in Columbus over the next ten years?	27:00

11/17/13	Political strategists Terry Casey and Brian Rothenberg	They discuss various political issues, including whether Libertarian candidate Charlie Earl will be a factor in the governor's race, whether the minor party ballot access law will be effective in keeping Tea Party candidates off the ballot, thus helping Governor Kasich, whether the failed school levy in Columbus hurts Mayor Michael Coleman, who supported it, whether the Ohio Supreme Court will find JobsOhio unconstitutional in the way it is operated, and whether President Obama will be a liability to Democrats on the ballot next year.	8:00
12/1/13	Political strategists Dale Butland and Bob Clegg	They discuss a number of issues, including whether the number of early voting days should be reduced, whether President Obama will be a liability for Democrat Ed Fitzgerald's bid for governor, whether a Stand Your Ground law is necessary in Ohio, whether questions about JobsOhio will go away during the coming governor's race, whether the Kasich administration is creating jobs and whether he can run on that record, and whether State Senator Eric Kearney of Cincinnati is a good pick for running mate by Ed Fitzgerald.	5:00
12/22/13	Ohio Senate President Keith Faber	He blames any slowing of the Ohio economy on Washington and says Ohio leaders are trying to fix it. Still, he says Ohio went from 84 cents in the rainy day fund to more than $1.4 billion. He also expressed dissatisfaction with Governor Kasich going through the Ohio Controlling Board to expand Medicaid when the state legislature refused to do so. He says the legislature has approved several measures to reform Medicaid, which accounts for 50% of the state budget (he says it was 17% in 1980). He reforms passed by the General Assembly will save $7 billion by 2020. He also talked about efforts to combat prescription drug abuse and heroin abuse in Ohio, saying they are the major crime drivers in Ohio.	7:00

2. TRANSPORTATION

DATE	GUEST	TOPIC	LENGTH
10/20/13	Securing America's Future Energy Vice-President Sam Ori	He talks about the 40 year anniversary of the OPEC Oil Embargo. He says it solidified America's belief it was over-reliant on foreign oil. He says cars are more efficient but the U. S. is still a major consumer of oil, which powers 93% of our transportation. But he says U. S. oil production is growing, along with natural gas production and more alternative fuel-driven cars are being produced. He says oil is a global price so being independent of foreign oil won't save money for consumers—the issue is more about energy security and diversity.	14:00
11/17/13	MADD Ohio Executive Director Doug Scoles	It's "Tie One On for Safety red ribbon campaign is underway, in its 27th year. The ribbons remind people not to drink and drive during the holidays. He talked about legislation to be proposed again at the Statehouse that, if passed, would require first time offenders of DUI in Ohio to have an interlock ignition system on their cars so they must be alcohol-free to start the car.	9:00
11/24/13	Kimberly Schwinde with Ohio AAA	She says 43-million Americans and nearly 2 million Ohioans will be traveling for Thanksgiving—down slightly from last year. She talked about popular destinations.	7:00
12/15/13	Kimberly Schwinde with Ohio AAA	She talks about the dangers of driving while sleepy.	5:00

EDUCATION

DATE	GUEST	TOPIC	LENGTH
10/27/13	State Senator Charleta Tavares	She talks about eliminating zero tolerance policies for schools. She says zero tolerance punishes students and penalizes them by imposing suspensions or detentions when they should be in school learning.	9:00

11/6/13	All 6 candidates for Columbus School Board: Michael Cole, Beverly Corner, Hanifah Kambon, Dominic Paretti, Ramona Reyes and Mike Wiles.	Each was allowed a one-minute statement, then asked these questions and given one minute to respond: What do you think the role of city government should be in regulating city schools? What should the role of the school board be in relation to the district superintendent? What steps should the school board take to prevent data tampering of test scores and attendance records? What is the single most important thing that should be done to improve Columbus City schools?	27:00
11/10/13	Ohio Association of Community Colleges Interim President Karen Rafinski	She talks about Ohio's 23 community colleges, saying they have exploded in growth and provide an important role in job training in a changing economy. The Ohio College Opportunity Grant is a big concern for community colleges. She says in 2009 the grant was cut from $395-million to $171-million, cutting off community college students from this $2500 resource. The association is trying to get grants restored.	17:00
11/17/13	Political strategists Terry Casey and Brian Rothenberg	They discuss various political issues, including whether Libertarian candidate Charlie Earl will be a factor in the governor's race, whether the minor party ballot access law will be effective in keeping Tea Party candidates off the ballot, thus helping Governor Kasich, whether the failed school levy in Columbus hurts Mayor Michael Coleman, who supported it, whether the Ohio Supreme Court will find JobsOhio unconstitutional in the way it is operated, and whether President Obama will be a liability to Democrats on the ballot next year.	8:00

GOVERNMENT

DATE	GUEST	TOPIC	LENGTH
10/6/13	Lt. Governor and Director of the Ohio Department of Insurance Mary Taylor	She says cost was the reason for Ohio to have the federal government set up the health insurance exchange under the Affordable Care Act rather than the state running it. She says there are ten health insurance companies that will offer policies on the exchange, whereas there were about 60 in Ohio before the ACA, so she says competition won't be as robust. She also says many healthy, younger people will pay more for health insurance now, but did acknowledge she likes the removal of pre-existing conditions under the ACA.	6:00
10/6/13	Columbus Dispatch health Reporter Ben Sutherly	He talks about the Affordable Care Act, saying it will add hundreds of thousands of Ohioans to those who have health insurance but will not result in all being covered, even up to the year 2020. He says most people are confused by the changes and requirements and it's impossible to say what the end result will be.	6:00
10/6/13	Political strategists Terry Casey and Sam Gresham	They briefly discuss a number of issues including whether the Affordable Care Act will be successful, who is to blame for the recent federal government shutdown, on the spat between Senators Ted Cruz and John McCain, on whether Cuyahoga County Executive and gubernatorial candidate Ed Fitzgerald is to blame for unemployment woes in that county, on whether JobsOhio has conflicts of interest between its reps and businesses they deal with.	7:00
10/13/13	Ohio Political strategists Liz Brown (Democrat) and Bob Clegg (Republican),	They briefly discuss the various issues including who is to blame for government shutdown, what will happen first—defunding Affordable Care Act or agreement to end shutdown, how the health care exchanges are doing under the Affordable Care Act, whether women will be a problem for Republicans in the next statewide election due to anti-abortion laws, whether Ohio will have a "stand your ground" law, and whether Ohio will have Medicaid expansion.	6:00

10/20/13	Gary Daniels with Ohio American Civil Liberties Union	He talks about anti-abortion bills in Ohio, several which were signed as part of the state budget bill instead of individually. Daniels says these bills have nothing to do with the state budget so the ACLU filed a lawsuit saying it's a violation of the single subject rule of the Ohio Constitution. Some elements of the new laws say women seeking abortion must be told the probability the pregnancy could go to full term, re-prioritizes funding for Planned Parenthood to bottom of list, defunds Rape Crisis Centers if they provide abortion referrals, and tightens parental consent requirements. Daniels says beyond the procedure in which they were passed the ACLU may look at these individually and determine their constitutionality.	5:00
10/20/13	Ohio Right to Life Executive Director Mike Gonidakis	He also talks about anti-abortion bills in Ohio, saying Ohioans have elected majorities in the house and senate and governor's office who are pro-life. He also says if the ACLU succeeds in chopping non-budget related items out of the budget bill it will jeopardize funding for food banks, rape crisis centers and many other programs and services. He also says abortion is down in Ohio overall but is up among black women (up 5%) and abortion clinics are located in inner-cities where most of those women reside.	5:00
10/20/13	Political strategists Sam Gresham and Terry Casey	They briefly discuss various Ohio political issues, including whether the ACLU will win its single subject lawsuit against the state, whether the government shutdown will make John Boehner a lame duck Speaker, whether Ohio congressman Bill Johnson will be hurt by anti-tea party ads running against him, whether making it more difficult for minor parties to get on Ohio's statewide ballot is good or bad, and whether Ed Fitzgerald is running an effective campaign for governor.	4:00

10/27/13	Ohio Department of Administrative Services Director Bob Blair and LeanOhio Director Steve Wall	They talk about making state agencies more efficient. Wall is working with all 26 state agencies in helping to identify ways to become more efficient. Blair says the goal is not to reduce the workforce within the agencies but to eliminate duplication, reduce bureaucracy and create more efficiency. He says one example is how streamlining a process helps disabled Ohioans find jobs more quickly, or helps people getting homes winterized more quickly because the part of an agency that deals with that has been made more efficient.	20:00
10/27/13	House Minority Leader Tracy Maxwell Heard	She speaks against a proposed "Stand Your Ground" law in Ohio. She says other states have seen an increase in "justifiable homicides" when they have this law. She says the law takes the authority away from police and can put it into the hands of an aggressor. She prefers a "duty to retreat" approach, which is on the books in Ohio.	5:00
10/27/13	Ken Hansen with Buckeye Firearms Foundation	He speaks in favor of "Stand Your Ground." He says "Duty to Retreat" confuses the important issue of self-defense. He says "Stand Your Ground" still requires that one show they had to use lethal force to stop an attack.	5:00
11/6/13	All 6 candidates for Columbus City Council: Brian Bainbridge, Greg Lawson, Troy Miller, Eileen Paley, Nick Schneider and Priscilla Tyson	Each was allowed a one-minute statement, then asked these questions and given one minute to respond: What is the single most important thing Columbus can do to improve the safety of its citizens? What is the single most important thing Columbus can do to improve the way it handles growth and development? What is the single most important thing Columbus can do to improve its budget outlook? She says in 2009 the grant was cut from $395-million to $171-million, cutting off community college students from this $2500 resource. The association is trying to get grants restored.	17:00
11/17/13	Ohio Libertarian Party candidate for Governor Charlie Earl	He says he believes the Libertarian Party is positioned to become major players in the election, not just in tightening races between the major party candidates but for winning those races outright. In the governor's race he says Democrats have not been happy with some aspects of President Obama and Washington. Support for Democrats and Republican lawmakers are at historic lows. He says people are ready for change and want a say in what's going on.	8:00
11/17/13	Columbus Dispatch Political Reporter Jim Siegel	He talks about state legislation that makes it harder for minor parties to be recognized on the statewide ballot	4:00

11/17/13	Political strategists Terry Casey and Brian Rothenberg	They discuss various political issues, including whether Libertarian candidate Charlie Earl will be a factor in the governor's race, whether the minor party ballot access law will be effective in keeping Tea Party candidates off the ballot, thus helping Governor Kasich, whether the failed school levy in Columbus hurts Mayor Michael Coleman, who supported it, whether the Ohio Supreme Court will find JobsOhio unconstitutional in the way it is operated, and whether President Obama will be a liability to Democrats on the ballot next year.	8:00
11/17/13	Rainbow Babies & Children's Hospital Advisory Council President Chrissy Blackburn	She talks about the "Speak Now For Kids" Initiative, an online children's healthcare advocacy network. She says the expansion of Medicaid and the implementation of the Affordable Care Act makes this a complicated and changing time. She says it's also a way to keep parents of such kids in need in better touch with legislators and to better find a voice to help them with their needs.	9:00
12/1/13	Columbus Dispatch reporter Jim Siegel	He talks about gun legislation at the Statehouse	6:00
12/1/13	State Representative Jay Hottinger (R-Newark) and former Ohio Democratic Party Chairman Dave Leland	They discuss the need for bipartisanship and civility in politics. Leland says John Kennedy was president when he was a child and says he remembers Kennedy as a person who said politics was an honest profession and says it should still be. Hottinger says civility at the Statehouse has been in decline and that now there are even problems with that within a single political party. He says there is less social interacting between state legislators and he blames that, in part, on term limits. Leland was in the state legislature in the 1980s and agrees it is different now but believes that environment can return.	7:00

12/1/13	Political strategists Dale Butland and Bob Clegg	They discuss a number of issues, including whether the number of early voting days should be reduced, whether President Obama will be a liability for Democrat Ed Fitzgerald's bid for governor, whether a Stand Your Ground law is necessary in Ohio, whether questions about JobsOhio will go away during the coming governor's race, whether the Kasich administration is creating jobs and whether he can run on that record, and whether State Senator Eric Kearney of Cincinnati is a good pick for running mate by Ed Fitzgerald.	5:00
12/1/13	American Coalition for Clean Coal Electricity President and C. E. O. Mike Duncan	He talks about regulations that he says are harming the coal industry. He says coal is a reliable and cheap source of energy but there are regulations impeding its use. He says the EPA is making it nearly impossible for new coal-fired power plants to be built.	10:00
12/8/13	Ohio House Speaker Bill Batchelder	He discusses Medicaid expansion and other legislative issues. Batchelder says he didn't want to put his caucus members under the gun of an up or down vote on Medicaid expansion because some members are new and facing tough races for re-election. He also says he was at odds with Governor Kasich on the issue and was not happy with Kasich going through the Ohio Controlling Board to get the expansion. He says the legislature is still aggressively pursuing reforms to Medicaid to save the state money and make it more efficient.	10:00
12/8/13	Columbus Dispatch reporter Joe Vardon	He discusses the Ohio Governor's race. He says John Kasich is someone to keep your eye on for a possible Presidential run in 2016 but that he's still running under the radar nationally. He says Kasich's people are confident he'll be re-elected in Ohio and that Democrat Ed Fitzgerald is still unknown by 75% of Ohioans even though he's been running for seven months.	5:00

12/8/13	Political strategists Liz Brown (Democrat) and Mike Gonidakis (Republican)	They discuss political issues, including whether Ohio's economy is a plus or minus for Governor John Kasich's re-election bid, whether Governor Kasich's approval rating being slightly above 50% make him highly likely to be re-elected, whether conservatives are unhappy with Kasich, whether a balanced budget amendment is necessary for Washington, and whether Obamacare is hurting the Democrats overall.	5:00
12/15/13	State Senator Nina Turner (D-Cleveland) and OSU Law Professor Dan Tokaji	They discuss voting rights. Tokaji says Ohio has not done well with prominent politicians making it more difficult instead of easier for people to vote, enacting I-D requirements and changing provisional ballot requirements and restrictions on early voting. Turner, who is running for Secretary of State, says her likely opponent (current Secretary of State Jon Husted) fought all the way to the U-S Supreme Court to, as she put it, suppress the vote."	12:00
12/22/13	Columbus Dispatch reporter Joe Varden	He discusses Eric Kearney stepping down as Democrat Ed Fitzgerald's running mate in race for governor.	8:00
12/22/13	Ohio Senate President Keith Faber	He blames any slowing of the Ohio economy on Washington and says Ohio leaders are trying to fix it. Still, he says Ohio went from 84 cents in the rainy day fund to more than $1.4 billion. He also expressed dissatisfaction with Governor Kasich going through the Ohio Controlling Board to expand Medicaid when the state legislature refused to do so. He reforms passed by the General Assembly will save $7 billion by 2020. He also talked about efforts to combat prescription drug abuse and heroin abuse in Ohio, saying they are the major crime drivers in Ohio.	7:00

12/22/13	Political strategists Terry Casey and Brian Rothenberg	They discussing various issues including whether the Eric Kearney tax trouble will derail the Fitzgerald campaign, whether tax issues will be fair game in attacking candidates including John Kasich, who has not released tax records from some previous years, whether the Tea Party will put a candidate up against Kasich, hurting him in the governor's race, and whether former JobsOhio leader Mark Kvammi's business dealings with Ohio State University are above board and on whether Obamacare will succeed.	7:00

CRIME/SAFETY

DATE	GUEST	TOPIC	LENGTH
10/13/13	Directions for Youth and Families C.E.O. Duane Casares	He talks about various programs the agency offers, such as after school and summer programs, Children with Murdered Parents or Siblings, anger management, a program for kids dealing with addictions, and Neighborhood Options for Youth which has been working with Ohio State University, Columbus Police and the Weinland Park Initiative on the north side of the city. It's a coordinated effort to help kids headed for trouble to get into counseling instead of facing charges.	16:00
10/13/13	Ohio Political strategists Liz Brown (Democrat) and Bob Clegg (Republican),	They briefly discuss the various issues including who is to blame for government shutdown, what will happen first—defunding Affordable Care Act or agreement to end shutdown, how the health care exchanges are doing under the Affordable Care Act, whether women will be a problem for Republicans in the next statewide election due to anti-abortion laws, whether Ohio will have a "stand your ground" law, and whether Ohio will have Medicaid expansion.	6:00

10/6/13	Directions for Youth and Families C.E.O. Duane Casares	He talks about suicide prevention	15:00

10/13/13	OSU Professor Paul Beck	He talks about the Affordable Care Act and government shutdown. He says there are bound to be problems during the roll-out of health care reforms and policies will have to be adjusted. He talked about how a party's caucus dictates what is voted on and is the reason House Speaker John Boehner is being criticized on leadership issues when it comes to the government shutdown.	7:00
10/13/13	Ohio Political strategists Liz Brown (Democrat) and Bob Clegg (Republican),	They briefly discuss the various issues including who is to blame for government shutdown, what will happen first—defunding Affordable Care Act or agreement to end shutdown, how the health care exchanges are doing under the Affordable Care Act, whether women will be a problem for Republicans in the next statewide election due to anti-abortion laws, whether Ohio will have a "stand your ground" law, and whether Ohio will have Medicaid expansion.	6:00

11/24/13	Captain Wanda Finch with the Real Warriors Campaign	She talks about her group's efforts to help military vets with mental health issues. It informs vets about services available, help them cope, and help family members with support	10:00
12/8/13	Emergency Room physician Dr. Howard Mell	He talks about prescription drug abuse, saying the problem is rampant. He says one reason is many years ago pain was undertreated and the federal government now considers the level of pain a patient experiences to be a "vital sign" and so more of a focus has been made on treating pain and dispensing medication. He says addiction is not predictable and the drugs can be obtained by non-patients in a variety of ways. He says corrupt doctors involved with pill mills have a big impact but are few in number—that most doctors and pharmacies are doing the right things.	20:00

12/8/13	Ohio House Speaker Bill Batchelder	He discusses Medicaid expansion and other legislative issues. Batchelder says he didn't want to put his caucus members under the gun of an up or down vote on Medicaid expansion because some members are new and facing tough races for re-election. He also says he was at odds with Governor Kasich on the issue and was not happy with Kasich going through the Ohio Controlling Board to get the expansion. He says the legislature is still aggressively pursuing reforms to Medicaid to save the state money and make it more efficient.	10:00
12/15/13	Heather Berg, 2013 National Youth Advocate for the American Diabetes Association	She talks about her disease, saying 9.4% of Ohioans have diabetes. She is from Seattle and has Type 1 diabetes and says she learned so by having her blood-glucose level checked at a store. She says there are Diabetes Walks coming up around the state to raise money for awareness and research, raising $24 million annually.	6:00
12/22/13	Ohio Senate President Keith Faber	He blames any slowing of the Ohio economy on Washington and says Ohio leaders are trying to fix it. Still, he says Ohio went from 84 cents in the rainy day fund to more than $1.4 billion. He also expressed dissatisfaction with Governor Kasich going through the Ohio Controlling Board to expand Medicaid when the state legislature refused to do so. He says the legislature has approved several measures to reform Medicaid, which accounts for 50% of the state budget (he says it was 17% in 1980). He reforms passed by the General Assembly will save $7 billion by 2020. He also talked about efforts to combat prescription drug abuse and heroin abuse in Ohio, saying they are the major crime drivers in Ohio.	7:00
12/29/13	Directions for Youth and Families C.E.O. Duane Casares	He talks about New Year's Resolutions	14:00
